

Teresa

Mother is in the process of feeding a solid food lunch to her seven-month-old daughter, Teresa, who is in a high chair with a tray alongside a table in the kitchen. The tray holds the bowl of food and a small, plastic teddy bear.

1. Teresa: (bangs the bear on the tray surface while looking directly at her mother's eyes) Aaaaahhhhh!
2. Mother: (smiles at Teresa and spoons a bite into her mouth)
3. Teresa: Mmmmm... (sounds made while eating the mouthful)
4. Teresa: (puts the bear in her mouth)
5. Mother: Are you finished eating?
6. Teresa: (looks at her mother and continues to mouth the bear)
7. Mother: (removes bear from Teresa's mouth and says in a silly voice) Don't eat the bear!
8. Teresa: (looks down at the bowl of food)
9. Mother: (glances down at the bowl, too)
10. Mother: Here's more food.
11. Teresa: (looks at her mother)
12. Mother: (puts food in Teresa's mouth)
13. Teresa: (in a high shrill voice) Whuh whuh (bangs the bear)
14. Mother: Oh, you like that. (smiles) You're having a good time.

Divide the 14 statements into topic blocks. Draw a line between the numbered statements where the topic changes, that is, the statement changes the topic from the topic of the previous statement.

Then generalize what the topic block is basically about, i.e., the name of the topic.

Then circle the name of the person who initiated that topic.
